Meeting Emerging Challenges – HIM & IT – Friends or Foe ?

Abstract:

Traditionally Health Information Management Departments have reported under Medical, Finance or Corporate Directorates within a healthcare organisation. There is now another player in this space, IT Directorates.

Is this a viable option?

This presentation will explore the pros and cons of alignment with the organisation's IT Division and what the HIM agenda needs to be in a increasing environment of clinical information systems, electronic health records and information management demands from a health care organisation perspective.
